

INFORMATION SHARING PROTOCOL FOR SCHOOLS
2025 – 2026
(ACADEMIC YEAR)

Errington Primary School

Foreword

This policy has been created by Helen Hogan: Safeguarding Matters to provide clarity to all stakeholders in school around information sharing.

Introduction

Information sharing is vital to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people. A key factor identified in many National Child Practice Reviews has been a failure by practitioners to record information, to share it, to understand its significance and then take appropriate action. This protocol aims to set out clear standards required by everyone.

Purpose and Aim

Errington School's whole-school Information Sharing Protocol aims to provide clear direction to staff and others about expected codes of behaviour in the sharing of information of a confidential nature. The protocol also aims to make explicit our school's commitment to the development of good practice and sound procedures to keep children and adults safe in our school. This is inclusive of the expectations from the Data Protection Act 2018 and General Data Protection Regulations 2018.

The Seven Golden Rules of Information Sharing

Errington Primary School follows the Government golden rules of information sharing and these are embedded into everyday practice:

1. All children have a right to be protected from abuse and neglect. Protecting a child from such harm takes priority over protecting their privacy, or the privacy rights of the person(s) failing to protect them.
2. When you have a safeguarding concern, wherever it is practicable and safe to do so, engage with the child and/or their carer(s), and explain who you intend to share information with, what information you will be sharing and why. You are not required to inform them, if you have reason to believe that doing so may put the child at increased risk of harm (e.g., because their carer(s) may harm the child, or react violently to anyone seeking to intervene, or because the child might withhold information or withdraw from services).
3. You do not need consent to share personal information about a child and/or members of their family if a child is at risk or there is a perceived risk of harm.
4. Seek advice promptly whenever you are uncertain or do not fully understand how the legal framework supports information sharing in a particular case.
5. When sharing information, ensure you and the person or agency/organisation that receives the information take steps to protect the identities of any individuals (e.g., the child, a carer, a neighbour, or a colleague) who might suffer harm if their details became known to an abuser or one of their associates.

6. Only share relevant and accurate information with individuals or agencies/organisations that have a role in safeguarding the child and/or providing their family with support, and only share the information they need to support the provision of their services.
7. Record the reasons for your information sharing decision, irrespective of whether or not you decide to share information.

Legislation Guidelines

The Education Act 2002, section 175 (for maintained schools and settings as amended), the Education (Independent School Standards) Regulation 2014 (for Academies/Free Schools), the Education non maintained Special schools (England) Regulation 2015 and the Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 (as amended) and the Education and Training (Welfare of Children) Act 2021 sets out the need for all schools/settings to have appropriate safeguarding arrangements in place.

The legislation also sets out the duty to work co-operatively with external organisations. Although the legislation for Data Protection and Human Rights is in place, the learning from serious case reviews is clear, 'where there are safeguarding concerns about a child. A concern could be based on an established risk (e.g. where there is evidence that a child has suffered harm) or a suspected or potential risk (e.g. where it is reasonable for a practitioner to believe that information sharing is necessary to protect a child from harm that may happen without intervention). It may be that the risk of harm to a child can only be identified and understood through the early sharing of concerns between practitioners and agencies or organisations who may hold relevant information about the child and can support action to safeguard the child. (Information Sharing, 2024) and therefore both internal and external procedures should always be in place for sharing information.

Section 10 and 14B of the Children Act 2004, is explicit in highlighting the need for all agencies to share information with each other, the Local Authority and the Local Safeguarding Children Partnerships.

The General Data Protection Regulations, 2018 states that if you are creating records about the children and/or adults that take part in your services or activities, you need to make sure they understand what records you hold, why you need to hold them and who you might share their information with (for example as part of a multi-agency child protection team) (Information Commissioner's Office, 2017(a) and 2017(b)). If you are keeping records for child protection reasons, you don't always need to gain consent from the adults and/or children concerned. Therefore, information may still be held and retained as long as there is an agreed purpose for it and where applicable, consent has been given.

Information Sharing Internally within the School/Setting

Sharing information either verbally, electronically or in paper format between members of our workforce requires clear direction in terms of consistency and safe practice.

All staff will be fully aware of the school/setting's expectations when sharing information about children, adults and their families. Any information that is shared could be requested by the individual or another agency in the future.

Therefore, best practice would recommend that information is accurate, factual and does not include personal interpretation or recommendation. Any recordings that are made that are not part of the central, secure recording process must not identify an individual child, adult or their family. In these circumstances the use of initials and year group would be appropriate.

Information Sharing Externally to Parents and Multi-Agency Partners

The same principles of sharing information internally, will apply to those members of staff who due to their role and responsibility have permission to share information with parents and multi-agency partners.

In addition to this, best practice would recommend that all conversations are recorded and held centrally and securely. Information that is shared externally either electronically or in paper format needs to be sent in a secure method. For example, information that is restricted should be sent password protected (electronically) or recorded delivery (paper format) so that it can be tracked and accounted for. Each school or setting should have clear and consistent protocols for this discharge.

Information Sharing for Child Protection

Information Sharing is necessary in the safeguarding and protection of children and all staff within our school must follow the school's Child Protection Policy where there is any evidence that a child is at risk of significant harm, through observation or disclosure from the child.

Significant harm is defined in The Children's Act 1989 as the ill-treatment (including sexual abuse and physical abuse) or the impairment of health (physical or mental) or development (physical, intellectual, emotional, social or behavioural) as compared to a similar child.

Note: harm now includes the impairment of a child's health or development as a result of witnessing the ill treatment of another person.

(Adoption and Children Act 2002)

Internal Reporting for Child Protection

At any point, if staff believe, in their professional opinion, a child is at risk of significant harm they must inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead (s) immediately.

Our Designated Safeguarding Leads are Sarah Rule and Claire English.

Information sharing is also necessary where there are concerns around the behaviour or practice of adults within the setting either employed staff, contractors or visitors. If there are any issues raised about the conduct of any adult on site either towards a child or another adult this must be reported directly to the Head Teacher (See Confidential Reporting/Whistleblowing Policy)

Our Headteacher is Sarah Rule

External Reporting for Child Protection

The role of the DSL is to make a decision based on the information shared about the risk of harm to the child. If the child is deemed to be at risk of significant harm from a person who has care, custody or control of them then an external referral will be made via Redcar and Cleveland MACH. Firstly, this will be verbally, followed up in writing. Our DSL may also wish to involve the police if the concern is of a criminal nature in which case, they would follow our local procedures for contacting police.

If the child is not deemed at risk of significant harm but is in need of support and help a referral to Early Help can be made with consent and agreement from parents. This involves help and support without the need for statutory intervention.

Under Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025 it states, ‘If in exceptional circumstances, the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) is not available, this should not delay appropriate action being taken’.

External Information Sharing for Allegations/Complaints

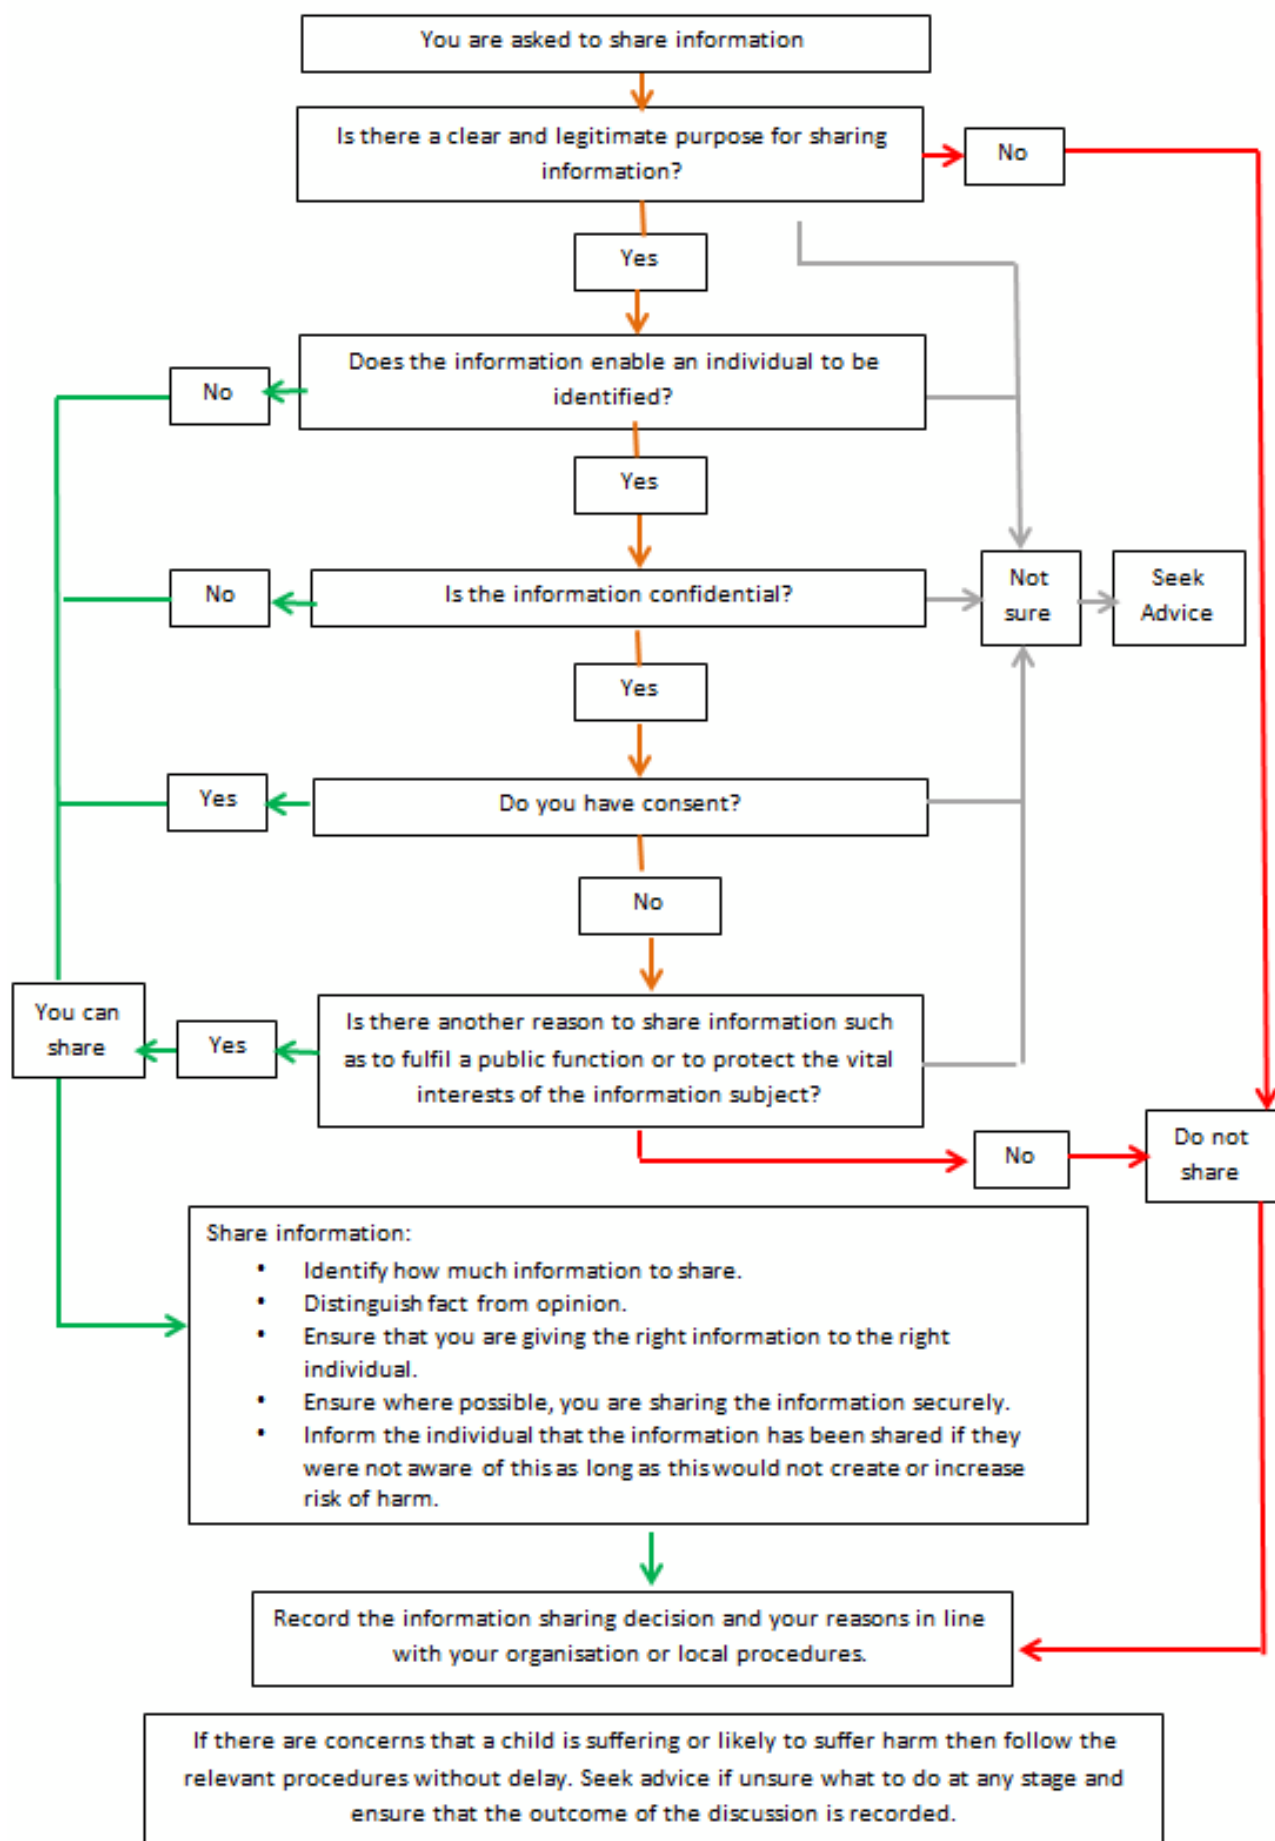

The role of the Head Teacher is to make a decision about the risk of harm towards a child from another adult employed, working or visiting our school. If a child or adult discloses harm by another adult then our Head Teacher must contact the Designated Officer, within the LA – The LADO - for immediate advice.

If the disclosure/allegation is made against our Head Teacher then it must be reported to the Chair of Governors who will contact the (LA) Designated Officer. These arrangements may differ if the school is part of a MAT.

If the disclosure/allegation is made against the school/setting/regime the Local Authority and OFSTED should be notified.

In addition, the Local Safeguarding Partnership can require an individual or body to comply with a request for information, as outlined in Section 14B, Children Act 2004. This can only take place when the information requested is for the purpose of enabling or assisting the Local Safeguarding Partnership to perform its functions.

The following flow chart (page 12 information sharing) can support you in understanding when and how to share information:

Conclusion

Information regarding children who are vulnerable and their families will have to be recorded and stored in the best interests of those individuals. Where possible and at every opportunity children and adults should be informed of this and their consent gained and recorded alongside their consent to share this information with others. In some circumstances e.g., child protection, consent may not be given but the statutory nature of the case requires that it is recorded. In all circumstances information should be treated confidentially, recorded factually and accurately and stored for an agreed period of time (see retention schedule). Parents and children have a right to know and understand what information is recorded about them and why and may request to see it. Any information that is shared must be appropriately redacted and pertain only to those individuals of whom the request has been made. This should be done via legal support and the school's Data Protection Officer.
